Liberty Bell Time Capsule Opening Update

The Liberty Bell time capsule opening event is coming up on November 15, 2026, and we have some exciting updates to share! The Del Webb Sun Cities Museum continues to select the items to be placed in the new time capsule and confirmed that their Board of Trustees will provide a letter with a message to the residents of 2076.

In addition, the museum has purchased a special display case that will serve as the new exhibit to hold the items that will be uncovered from the time capsule. The museum may also include replicas of a few items that will be placed in the new memory archive.

Have some ideas on what to include in the new time capsule? The museum is seeking feedback and ideas from Members and suggestions may be emailed to timecapsule2076@gmail.com.

Save the Date!!

1:30-3:30 p.m. Sunday, November 15, 2026
Sundial Recreation Center

Join the Del Webb Sun Cities Museum and the RCSC as we open the Time Capsule enclosed in the base of Sun City's Liberty Bell. Be with us as we uncover the treasures locked away 50 years ago -- and replace it with a new capsule to be opened 50 years from now, in 2076!

But what should we place in the new time capsule?

We need your ideas and suggestions and encourage you to send them to the museum at: timecapsule2076@gmail.com

More Than Mowing: The Experience Behind RCSC's Golf Courses

If you've ever looked across an RCSC golf course and admired its greens, fairways and carefully maintained playing surfaces, there is much more happening behind the scenes than meets the eye.

RCSC's golf course maintenance team brings more than 100 years of collective turf experience to the job. Their expertise combines science, technology, observation and something that comes only with years of experience: knowing how to read the course.

"We're not cutting grass. We're providing an elite playing surface for our Members."

And providing that playing surface takes tremendous work, often in conditions most people would never choose to work in.

Before Most of Sun City Is Awake

Golf course maintenance begins long before many golfers arrive. Crews can report as early as 3 or 4 a.m., hold team meetings, assign responsibilities and head onto the course while much of Sun City is still asleep.

During the summer, that work continues through some of Arizona's most challenging conditions. Long days in temperatures that can reach 115 degrees are part of the job.

The team mows, changes cups, prepares tee boxes, manages irrigation, fertilizes, monitors moisture and makes countless adjustments based on weather and turf conditions.

There is no one-size-fits-all approach. Every section of a golf course can have its own microclimate, with differences in moisture, soil, sunlight and turf conditions. RCSC's courses also contain multiple turf varieties, each requiring its own maintenance program.

An Art and a Science

The team monitors wind and moisture, evaluates turf color and health, adjusts mowing schedules, manages growth and uses preventive maintenance practices to protect the course for the future.

Much of the work involves making decisions based on what the team sees and feels in the turf each day.

"It's an art form mixed with science."

That combination of knowledge and experience helps the team recognize when one area needs more water, another needs fertilizer, or a different approach altogether.

Why Aerification?

So, if the greens look great, why are crews sometimes punching holes in them? Because maintaining healthy greens isn't just about how they look today. Aerification helps address compaction and allows air, water and nutrients to reach the soil and root system. Other practices, including sand topdressing, fertilization and growth management, also help maintain healthy turf and a smooth ball roll.

The work can temporarily change the appearance of the course, but those short-term disruptions are an investment in long-term playing conditions.

A Little Perspective Goes a Long Way

RCSC golf courses operate in an environment very different from courses in other parts of the country. Arizona's heat, monsoons, seasonal transitions and turf varieties all present unique challenges.

Weather happens. Turf gets stressed. Equipment needs repairs. And some maintenance practices can temporarily affect play.

Through it all, our golf maintenance teams use their expertise and the resources available to provide Members with quality playing conditions.

More Than 100 Years of Experience

Perhaps the most impressive part of RCSC's golf maintenance operation isn't a piece of equipment or a particular maintenance practice. It's the people.

More than 100 years of collective experience means Members have a team of professionals who understand turf, understand Arizona and understand what it takes to maintain golf courses day after day.

The next time you see a member of the golf course maintenance team out early in the morning or working through an Arizona summer afternoon, take a moment to thank them. Great golf course conditions don't happen by accident. They happen because our team knows what it takes to grow them.

Reps from the companies below will be onsite just to name a few...

Artistic Weavers and Fiber Artists

The Artistic Weavers and Fiber Artists Club at Oakmont Recreation Center offers an inviting place for RCSC Members, whether you are a skilled fiber artist or simply interested in learning new skills while making friends and crafting.

If you have an interest in fiber arts, we can arrange classes in weaving, felting, spinning, and basket making based on requests and needs. There are currently eight specialty skill groups that meet weekly to work, learn and enjoy the fiber arts: various kinds of Loom Weaving, Coiling, Felting, Spinners, Knitting, Crocheting and Knitting, Reed Basket Weaving and Macramé. We have expanded our Inkle Loom and Macramé groups meet on Fridays. Our Tuesday Felting group and Weaving study group and Spinners meet on Wednesdays.

The club provides a space with equipment for members, including a variety of looms, and access to other equipment that may be needed to create individual pieces. We have recently added several Nantucket basket forms for our Basket Weaving group. As a member of the Arizona Federation of Weavers and Spinners, periodically we invite artists in residence from across the state to conduct unique classes in our club. We also provide information and help coordinate visits to other Fiber Arts meetings and festivals.

All current RCSC members are welcome to join for the yearly fee of $15. General membership meetings are held on the 4th Monday of the month from October through April, as well as club sponsored social gatherings. For more information, stop by our room at the Oakmont Center or email to OakmontFiberArtists3@gmail.com.

Sun City Lifelong Learning Club

The Sun City Lifelong Learning Club, an RCSC club, is an educational organization of volunteers whose mission is to provide RCSC members with educational programs at a low cost. Since 2008, the club has offered a wide variety of learning opportunities across a broad spectrum of interests as identified by the membership including birdwatching, financial planning, current events, negotiation strategies for conflict resolution, medical research and self-care, developmental stages and issues, architecture, art history, art appreciation, art production, national history, cinema, music, composition and storytelling, and travel.

Classes are typically held Mondays through Fridays at the Fairway Center, located at 10600 West Peoria Ave., at various day time and evening hours. The club also sponsors field trips to other locations, which may involve additional fees additional beyond the annual $20 membership fee. The fall term begins in October and ends early in December, and the spring term begins in January and ends in March or early April. There are two membership meetings every year before each semester. Class registration is aligned with the membership meetings. Lifelong Learning could not provide new learning experiences without the generous contributions of facilitators and instructors who are willing to share expertise and knowledge. Readers with skills and interests to share and members are always invited to contact us at scazlifelong@gmail.com.

Water Volleyball Club

The Water Volleyball Club of Sun City offers members and their guests an active sports club activity, adding the water element to volleyball. We combine fitness, friends, and fun for all skill levels! We offer three levels of play, ranging from social and recreational to competitive and robust style.

We make our primary home at the Oakmont Recreation Center Pool playing on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The club plays two sessions with dedicated play style times. Times may be adjusted based on participation levels. Our club adds indoor play at Sundial on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:40 to 8:40 p.m.

Membership in the Water Volleyball Club is open to all RCSC Cardholders in good standing. Prospective members must qualify for membership by demonstrating the ability to meet established minimum skill sets and to be able to participate safely. In addition, members can qualify for more elevated styles of play. Please note, the number of members participating in the water volleyball games often reaches or exceeds maximum pool capacity, so participation cannot always be guaranteed.

There is an annual membership fee of $10. If interested, please contact the club at WVCofSC@gmail.com.

Sun City Clay Club

The Sun City Clay Club (SCCC) invites you to stop by and see if “playing in the mud” is for you! SCCC is a wonderful place to learn a new skill, explore your creativity, and socialize with fellow members. The club offers instruction in hand building and wheel throwing, along with monthly workshops featuring new skills and techniques. Membership is open to all RCSC Members.

In addition to its excellent facilities, SCCC showcases and sells the work of talented clay artists. Debbie Bardos, the club’s display curator, uses her creative eye and imagination to arrange more than 200 unique handcrafted pieces. She especially enjoys working with color combinations to draw the eye from one display to another while highlighting each artist’s work.

Creativity has always been a part of Debbie’s life. In Michigan, her longtime home, she was a regional costume storyteller who created and portrayed characters including “Ms. La Rue How Do You Do” and “Maddie Do Good.” Working with local school districts and PBS, she used her characters to help children with reading and counting. As Maddie Do Good, she encouraged kindness by asking, “Who will you share your cup of kindness today?”

Visit SCCC at the Grand Center located at 10415 Grand Ave. Our hours are Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., and Friday through Sunday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Learn more at suncityaz.org/clubs/clay-club.

Fairway Sterling & Stones

Many are aware that there are almost 125 wonderful clubs in Sun City, but some may not know that Fairway Sterling and Stones club is a hidden gem that we happily share with others. So, what makes our club a gem? Not only do we provide the essentials for members to succeed, but we go one step further by being exceptionally friendly and helpful.

Whether you’re a novice or experienced, you will have the opportunity to create beautiful jewelry using skills in lapidary, silver smithing, copper smithing, lost wax casting, glass fusion, wire wrapping, metal clay, chain making, and enamel. As well as having the required equipment and tools to create beautiful pieces, new members are taught essential skills and basic soldering to start them on their creative journey. Members can then take a large variety of workshops and classes offered.

All are welcome to visit Fairway Sterling & Stones at the Fairway Center, located at 107th Ave & Peoria Ave. in room 136. We sell our lovely creations in our club’s jewelry shop, which is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

All RCSC Members are invited to become club members. Annual membership is only $15.00.

Understanding the 2027 Budget Process

Recreation Centers of Sun City (RCSC) develops a budget designed to balance the needs of today with the long-term needs of the community. While the annual property assessment is an important part of that equation, it is only one piece of a much larger financial planning process. As RCSC prepares its 2027 budget recommendation, Members may have questions about how the process works, what factors are considered and how priorities are determined. The upcoming Budget Town Halls on Oct. 5 and 7 will provide an opportunity to learn more about that process, ask questions, and hear directly from Members involved in developing the recommendation.

Looking beyond a single year: Budget planning at RCSC is not simply a matter of looking at the next 12 months. Long-term planning is necessary because the community operates hundreds of acres of property, multiple recreation centers, golf courses, pools, bowling centers, grills, lakes, sports courts, libraries, and other amenities. Those facilities require people, equipment, utilities, maintenance, technology, insurance, and ongoing investment to remain operational. Some of that work is highly visible. Members see employees at recreation centers, golf courses, grills, and other facilities every day. Other work happens almost entirely behind the scenes.

Human Resources supports recruiting, payroll, benefits, and employment requirements. Accounting processes invoices and financial transactions. Information Technology maintains systems, security, and technology infrastructure. Safety and Compliance helps manage risk and mandatory regulatory requirements. Facilities manage work orders, maintenance, renovations, and projects. Every one of these functions contributes to the Member experience, whether or not a Member interacts directly with that employee.

Operations and capital: One of the most important distinctions in understanding the RCSC budget is the difference between operating expenses and capital investments. This includes employee costs, utilities, insurance, supplies, maintenance, programs, golf operations, and the day-to-day work required to operate RCSC facilities.

Capital investments prepare RCSC for today AND tomorrow: Capital dollars support major equipment, building projects, renovations, infrastructure, and other significant investments that help maintain and improve the community over time. In simple terms, one supports the daily operation of the community, while the other helps ensure the community has the physical assets and infrastructure it needs for the future.

Maintaining what Members value: Every RCSC experience is shaped by the people, planning, and care that go into serving our Members each day. A recreation center requires functioning HVAC systems, roofs, plumbing, electrical systems, and other infrastructure. Golf courses require specialized equipment and ongoing grounds maintenance. Pools require pumps and water systems. Facilities require vehicles, technology, and maintenance equipment. Much of this infrastructure is easy to overlook precisely because it is working as intended. That is one of the challenges of long-term stewardship: Some of the most important investments are not necessarily the most visible or exciting. A replaced piece of equipment or a repaired mechanical system may never become a headline, but it can be essential to keeping a facility open and serving Members.

Planning for changing needs: RCSC's financial planning also must account for changes that occur over time. The community's facilities age. Equipment eventually needs to be replaced. Operating requirements change. Labor, insurance, utilities, materials, and other costs can change. Regulatory requirements can evolve. New priorities emerge while existing needs remain. At the same time, RCSC must make thoughtful choices about what can be funded now, what can be planned for later, and what may not be financially feasible at a given time. That means not every requested project or improvement can be funded at once. Budgeting is, in part, the process of evaluating those competing needs, and determining where resources can have the greatest long-term impact.

A recommendation built through a process: The 2027 budget recommendation is the result of a broader planning process rather than a single decision. RCSC's Five-Year Planning Team has spent months examining the community's needs and considering longer-term priorities. That work feeds into the broader budget process, including review by the Budget, Finance & Audit Committee, and ultimately consideration by the Board. The purpose of this process is to look beyond individual projects and consider the overall financial sustainability of RCSC, through this Member-driven process. It is also an opportunity to consider what Members are asking for, what the organization needs to maintain today, what needs to be addressed before it becomes more costly, and what investments best position the community for the future.

Listening to Members: RCSC's budget work has emphasized listening to Members and understanding the experiences, needs, and priorities expressed throughout the community. The challenge is that RCSC is responsible for sustaining a broad range of amenities and services rather than funding only the facilities each individual Member uses. The goal of the budget process is to consider those different priorities while maintaining a responsible approach to the organization's overall financial position.

Looking ahead: A sustainable community requires more than maintaining what exists today. It requires planning for what comes next. The 2027 Budget Town Halls will provide Members with an opportunity to learn more about the planning process, the organization's financial priorities, and the recommendation being presented for the coming year. RCSC's responsibility is to be thoughtful about the resources entrusted to it, transparent about the challenges ahead, and intentional about planning for both the present and the future.

The community Members enjoy today what was built over decades. Sustaining it requires the same long-term thinking.
